"Gorgeous Ceilings and Glass" St. Clair Kitchen & Home

This classic modern kitchen in a 1920s Maplewood home displays a fine example of the interest in ceiling detail of that period. Accent lighting adds additional glamour to the kitchen, which is designed by Antoinette Fraser of St. Clair Kitchen & Home in South Orange.

The design features a sophisticated mix of contemporary leather furniture, polished nickel hardware, and sleek marble counters. The stainless La Cornue Cornufe range, also available at St. Clair, contrasts beautifully with the chocolate stained cabinetry. Fraser says she wanted the island to pop, which is why she chose the darker finish for the perimeter cabinets instead of the usual dark island which is commonly seen in today's kitchens.
